

Footsteps of Giants

written for the Shildon Institute Singers

Music by Rosie Bradford, lyrics by Rosie Bradford, Geoff Robson, Ian Lindley, the Citizen Songwriters group and the Shildon community

Verse 1	This is a town that gets under your skin	Gm
	You can run away,	Am
	You can get away,	Dm
	But it still gets in.	C
	I stand in the footsteps of the ones	Gm
	Who came before,	Am
	They keep me warm so they're not	Dm
	Gone.	C

Chorus

You don't need to go to make your sound,
It's in these streets, it's all around,
In the giant's footsteps, (now)
You don't have to see it to believe,
Just close your eyes and breathe,
And feel that Shildon beat,
From the giants footsteps feet.

Verse 2 (Chords as previously)

Echoes of sound that take me back to when,
The trains went in,
They went under the bridge,
Then went out again.
A thousand miles I roll these rails for nought,
So now why do I feel Like there's no way in, and
There's no way out?

Chorus
